

Metro Steamway

Saturday, 23 August 2008

Misleading Information And Fraud Posted by: bebe3626 on 05/17/2008 02:07 AM

Victoria Efird owner of Metro Steamway has misleading information on her website. First off she did not create or start Metro Steamway. She got Metro Steamway out of a divorce settlement. Also she still has some of her clients believing Mark is still cleaning the carpets. What people don't know if it weren't for Mark keeping her afloat this business would cease to exist. She has bad credit so Mark had to sign for her to get a new van and machine. How does she repay him for his kindness? Without his knowledge or permission she has been using a credit card in Mark's name and maxed it out. Isn't that identity theft and fraud. Who wants to do business with someone like that?

Mark has his own company and is no way involved in Metro Steamway. Victoria subs out work to him when she is desperate.